Around many country homes near Paris, where the American Red Cross is taking care of the children of the poor, there were planted last Spring many fields of American corn. This corn is being harvested now, and besides bringing in a nourishing harvest for the many little stomachs that have been so long on war rations the fields make playgrounds the like of which few French kiddies ever get a chance to romp in. This picture was taken on the estate of Gran Val, near Paris.

ALLIED FORCES MAINTAIN THEIR ADVANCES EAST OF THE PIAVE RIVER AND THE GREAT RAILROAD CENTERS OF CONEGLIATO AND ODERZO ARE THREATENED BY BRITISH, FRENCH AND ITALIAN ARMIES.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN FRANCE AT STANDSTILL DEBENEY ENCIRCLING BASE AT GUISE ONLY LOCAL OPERATIONS IN BELGIUM

Supplies Are Being Rushed to Allied Armies on the Piave Front, Indicating Intention to Push Offensive to the Utmost.

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

Allied troops maintained their progress east of the Piave and have taken more than 15,000 prisoners. The Italian, British and French seriously threaten the important railroad points of Conegliano and Oderzo and two of the three railway lines supporting the Austro-Hungarians on the Piave front.

AT A STANDSTILL IN FRANCE

On the western front in France heavy fighting virtually is at a standstill on the front north from LeCateau to the Dutch frontier, but from the Oise to east of the Meuse allied pressure continues with gains for the French between the Oise and the Serre. An intense artillery duel is in progress on the American front northwest of Verdun, but no infantry fighting has been reported.

STRIKING AT VITAL

While the allies have thrown forces across the Piave on a front of about 30 miles the heaviest fighting has been along a stretch of seven miles, where the Italians and British have advanced more than three miles, making a formidable wedge in the Austrian positions east of the river and between two of their main communication lines.

The allies are within two miles of the important railroad points of Conegliano and Oderzo. Along the Piave south of Oderzo there has been little fighting but the allied advance in the north would tend to force the Austrians to evacuate the lowlands of the lower Piave.

Apparently the allied thrusts in the mountain zone between the Piave and Brenta were feints for the purpose of attracting the attention of the enemy from the more formidable movement across the Piave.

Troops and supplies are being rushed to the Piave front and it is evidently purposed to force the offensive to the utmost.

In addition to the British, Italian and French troops already taking part in the fighting, American troops are reported to be in reserve. The American infantry force is not large, probably two regiments or less, and not unlikely will be brigaded with the Italians or British.

The fighting east of the Piave has been very heavy, the Austrians struggling bitterly to prevent the allies from enlarging their gains on the east bank.

DEBENEY ENCIRCLING GUISE

East of the Oise the army of General Debeney rapidly is encircling Guise. On the south they are in the suburbs of the town and have captured German first line trenches besides enemy barracks and a hospital. Further south the French are marching northeastward between Guise and Marle and threaten to outflank both points by smashing all the way through the Hunding positions.

Since the beginning of his advance between the Oise and the Serre General Debeney has moved forward more than five miles on a 16-mile front. Along the Serre the enemy evidently continues to withdraw toward Marle as the French war office says French patrols are in contact with the Germans on this sector.

Eastward along the Aisne to the Argonne French pressure is maintained. German guns began to bombard the American lines in the Verdun region early Tuesday. The American artillery responded. Apparently the Germans hope to check any further American efforts to continue the advance by deluging the American lines with high explosives at the hour when attacks usually are launched.

MARSHAL HAIG'S REPORT

Field Marshal Haig reports only artillery and patrol actions on the front of his armies. In Belgium operations are only of a local character.

RECEIVES CITATION

MAJOR WILLIAM THAW

Major William Thaw, dean of American aviators in France, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, with two citations by General Pershing. This is the first American award received by Major Thaw, who already has the Cross of the Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre, given to him by France for his services as a member of the Lafayette Escadrille before he entered the American service.

AUSTRIA'S NOTE NOW IN THE CAPITAL

Official Note is Identical With Unofficial.

Cabinet Receives and Will Discuss It With Late German Note.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, October 29.—The new Austrian note asking for armistice and peace terms was received by cable today at the Swedish legation for delivery to the State Department. The text is said to be identical with that cabled by the Associated Press from Basel, Switzerland, yesterday. Word of the arrival of the note came just as the Cabinet was assembling at the White House for the usual Tuesday meeting, at which both the Austrian plea and the latest German note were expected to be discussed.

RAPID PROGRESS

(Associated Press Cable)

Copenhagen, October 29.—Archduke Joseph has issued a proclamation stating Emperor Charles has charged him with the task of securing the complete independence of Hungary, a dispatch from Budapest says.

The proclamation said peace will be aspired to at once and Hungary will join in a league of nations, her integrity and unity being the first aim.

THE ARCHDUKE

Archduke Joseph is a second cousin of the Emperor and for some years has made his home in Budapest where he has acted as representative of the Emperor on various occasions. He is a Colonel General in the Austrian army.

In May, 1917, he was suggested for the office of Premier of Hungary but declined to accept.

AUSTRIA'S LAST LINE IS BROKEN

With the Allied Armies on the Piave, October 29.—The last line of the Austro-Hungarian resistance on the central positions along the Piave river were broken Monday by the British, French and Italian forces.

INDEPENDENCE OF HUNGARIA IS IN FORMATION

(By Associated Press Cable)

Copenhagen, October 29.—An independent and anti-dynastic state has been formed in Hungary under the leadership of Count Michael Karolyi, in agreement with the Czechos and Slavonians, according to a Vienna report received by the Politiken.

In a speech at Budapest Karolyi declared he had presented his program to Emperor Charles who refused to accept it. Karolyi thereupon put into effect his plan for an independent state.

THE INDUCTION OF DRAFT MEN TO BEGIN SOON

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., October 29.—Unless the Spanish influenza epidemic assumes worse conditions drafted men probably will again commence moving to the camps on November 15th.

State draft headquarters after a conference with officials of the State Board of Health have asked Washington to give approval to the dates selected. This approval is expected.

A new call for 2,273 general service men to go to Camp Sherman November 16th also has been received.

It is expected that most of the men in these calls will be made up of old registrants.

THREE DEATHS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Camp Sherman, October 29.—Three more deaths occurred at the camp during the 24 hours ending at noon today bringing the total to 1,062. Major Jordan, of Milan, Tenn., was one of the victims. The others were Edgar Orr, Thorneville, O., and Thomas Moore, Winnsboro, S. C.

NO BREAK YET AMONG THE CENTRAL ALLIANCES

National Officials Incline to a Belief That Vienna and Berlin Are Working in Harmony

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, October 29.—Interest in official circles today was centered on the new peace note from Austria, reported in press dispatches to be on its way to Washington through the medium of the Swedish government.

Though no official announcement has been made it was considered certain no answer will be made to the latest communication from Germany delivered yesterday to President Wilson.

Though the Austrian note, according to the unofficial text, goes farther than any of the German peace proposals in that it asks the President to begin immediate negotiations for peace and armistice without awaiting further exchanges with Germany, many officials saw no signs of the expected break with the other Central Power.

In fact it is believed that the Vienna and Berlin governments are working in harmony and with a full knowledge of the other's actions. The belief was based largely on the fact that Austria's action so far has not aroused resentment in Germany.

PRISONERS ASSERT AUSTRIAN ARMY IS KEPT IN IGNORANCE

(By Associated Press Cable)

Italian Headquarters on the Piave, October 29.—Once across the Piave the allies have had to overcome strong Austrian trench positions and machine gun posts.

Austrian prisoners declare they know nothing of the political situation at home and the effort of their government to arrange an armistice. The Austrian army post office is said to have stopped the delivery of mail some time ago.

AERIAL ACTIVITY ON YANK FRONT

General Pershing Reports Three Enemy Planes Brought Down and All American Planes Return Safely.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, October 29.—Continued aviation activity on the front of the First American Army in spite of poor weather was reported by General Pershing in a second communique for Monday.

Three enemy planes and an observation balloon were shot down.

All American machines returned. Heavy artillery fire marked the day on both sides of the Meuse. In the Woer enemy prisoners were taken.

HEAVY ARTILLERY FIRE BEGUN IN VERDUN SECTOR

By Associated Press Dispatch.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, 10:00 a. m., October 29.—Activities along the center of the American front began long before daylight this morning, with a furious bombardment.

The enemy opened a heavy fire with gas shells at 2:30 o'clock which was changed to high explosives between four and five. The American artillery responded.

TURKEY TO ACT INDEPENDENTLY

(By Associated Press Cable)

London, October 29.—Turkey has independently presented peace proposals to the Entente nations, according to a report from Constantinople, forwarded by the correspondent at Copenhagen of the Exchange Telegraph Company. The negotiations are expected to end soon, it is added.

CLEAN UP DRIVE FOR WAR STAMPS SOON TO BE MADE

Fayette Still Short of War Savings Stamp Quota by $125,000 and Fayette War Work Council Will Make Final Drive in November.

The Fayette County War Work Council is preparing for a final clean up drive on War Savings Stamps, to be made the latter part of November at which time it is expected that Fayette county's quota of some $436,000 in War Savings Stamps will be entirely taken, which means that with the purchase of stamps to be made between now and the time the drive closes $125,000 worth of the stamps must be purchased.

War Savings Stamps may be purchased from any banker or accredited agent, or at the various post offices in the county in the interval before the drive is made by the War Work Council.

Discussing the sale of War Stamps in Fayette county, Chairman Daugherty declared that it is the only thing coming up since the war in which Fayette county has not been at least 100 per cent and that at the conclusion of the drive even this would be fully 100 per cent subscribed.

All persons who have pledged to take certain amounts of the stamps during the year, are expected to make good their pledges not later than when the drive takes place, and before then if possible so that the War Work Council will be helped as much as possible in its work.

It is expected that virtually everyone can buy more war stamps to insure Fayette taking her full quota, and the government be given all of the funds expected from Fayette county.

SGT. HIDEY GIVES CORRECT RECIPE USED BY FRENCH

Writing to a friend in this city, Sergeant Sherman Hidey of M Company in addition to describing the customs of the French, gives a sure-enough French recipe for frying potatoes "the best in the world." His interesting letter follows:

France, September 20, 1918.

Dear Friend:

You asked me for a description of the country crops. Fruit is nearly the same as back home. They raise wheat, rye, oats, barley, but very little corn; lots of potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, onions, tomatoes, carrots and all of our garden truck. Fruits of all kind; apples, pears, peaches, plums and a world of grapes. You know this is a great country for wine, and the grapes are for their wine.

So you were in doubt about the trees growing up against the houses. Well, it is true, for I have seen them myself.

The people look like ourselves but dress differently and have different ways. They are a very clever class of people, very accommodating and willing to help us all they can.

I have eaten many good meals in French homes. The women are excellent cooks in their way, but their way is different from mother's way. They have the world beaten on frying potatoes. I will tell you how I saw them do it, and I think they were the best I ever ate. You can try them for yourself. Take about a half dozen slices of bacon, and cut it up into pieces about a quarter of an inch square, put into a skillet and fry till done. Have potatoes sliced ready to put into the hot grease, also leaving the meat in, and fry until potatoes are done. Try it and let me know the result.

I started gathering souvenirs, as soon as I landed in France and the first thing I knew I had so many I didn't know what to do with them, as I couldn't carry them around with me, and had no way to haul them. I just came out of a drive a few days ago, and could have had all the souvenirs I could carry, such as German helmets, rifles, bayonets and the like.

I had all the boiled cabbage and turnips I could eat. They were planted and raised by the Germans, but when they found out we were after them they left everything and ran, and those that didn't run are prisoners now.

I saw three German planes all falling in flames at one time, the other day.

THREE MILLION OHIOANS BUY

Columbus, Ohio, October 29.—After Thursday, there will be only two months remaining of this year in which judicious and patriotic investors of Ohio can buy War Savings Stamps of the 1918 issue. That Ohioans generally appreciate the merit of this security for investment purposes is evidenced by the assertion that upwards of 3,000,000 people in the state now own War Savings Stamps.

For the remainder of October, War Savings Stamps can be purchased for $4.21 each. The "limit" amount, $1000—maturity value—costs $842.

In November, the price of $1000 of War Savings Stamps advances to $844 and in December to $846. For an investment of these sums, the government will pay $1000 on January 1, 1923, or at the rate of 4.27 per cent interest.

PECULIAR METHOD IN OLD MEXICO

By Associated Press Dispatch. Juarez, Mexico, October 28.—Mexican papers received here tell of a unique request made upon Felix Diaz, the rebel leader in the state of Vera Cruz, by President Carranza. An Argentine battleship arrived at Vera Cruz to assist in observing the Mexican independence day. The sailors and marines from the battleship were invited to Mexico City. To prevent the Diaz rebels from attacking the train, the Mexican paper stated, the President sent a request to Diaz that the train carrying the Argentine sailors be permitted to pass through rebel territory unmolested. Diaz granted the request, according to the newspaper account, upon condition that no Mexican troops were acting as escort of the train. The train was not molested.

DAVID WILLIAMS DIES EARLY TODAY

David Williams, aged 24 years, son of Mrs. Della Williams, of Jeffersonville, died of heart disease at his home about three o'clock Tuesday morning, after a few days' illness.

The young man had a host of friends in and around Jeffersonville, being popular with everyone who knew him. For some time he had been employed at the Mock store in Jeffersonville.

David had suffered from spinal trouble since a small child, when he was injured while in Colorado with his father, and had been hopeless a cripple since that time. He had always borne his misfortune which had robbed him of both strength and a sound body, with great fortitude, and was always so cheerful that he brought sunshine to many a person in their hours of gloom.

Funeral services will be held some time Thursday.

CANNOT LIFT BAN UNTIL NOTIFIED BY STATE BOARD

Health Conditions Improve in The City and Health Officer Byron Announces Only One Case of Contagious Disease Under Quarantine at Present Time.

The ban to prevent spread of influenza in this city and county will not be lifted until official permission is given by the State Board of Health, and this action will not be taken before the last of the week, when the state authorities may decide to allow the ban to remain a short time longer.

This was announced Tuesday afternoon by Health Officer Byron, after a long distance conversation with Acting State Health Commissioner Bauman, who declared that the ban here would be lifted as speedily as possible, but not until danger of a further spread of the disease was regarded as past.

able, but not until further spread of the disease was regarded as past.

Health Officer Byron also declared that until the ban is formally lifted by the State Board, that all public meetings will be barred, and that this includes social gatherings planned for Halloween, as well as all other meetings. Such meetings must not be held until notice is given, he announces.

Health Officer Byron estimates the percentage of persons having had the disease in this city and county, at one-third to one-half.

If the State Board declines to lift the ban on public meetings at the close of this week, nothing remains but to comply with the wishes of the State Board, it is announced by Officer Byron.

Another thing that will be of general interest in the city and county is the fact announced by Health Officer Byron that at the present time there is only one quarantine cases in the city a thing somewhat out of the ordinary for this period of the year, when the number of contagious disease cases requiring quarantine has often been several times greater than the single case at the present time.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business, run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread", or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products, —less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

The Need for Nurses

The wide spread of the influenza epidemic and the complications which follow in its wake has become almost, if not quite, a national calamity. Nearly every community in the nation has been held in the grip of the epidemic and suffered in business paralysis and the loss of many of its citizens.

Hereabout the epidemic has passed its crest and the community life is giving decided and unmistakable evidence of a return to normal conditions. Later reports from throughout the state are promising that, taking the commonwealth as a whole, the epidemic is showing signs of abatement, but there is still a great deal of sickness and suffering and a great need for nurses.

The appeal of the Red Cross for nurses is imperative. No one can mistake the urgency of the message—the S. O. S. call which is sent out for assistants in the work of caring for the sick and aiding in the work of preventing further spread of the epidemic.

Of course all persons qualified should volunteer their services and doubtless many score will do so but, without undertaking to advise the Red Cross officials, we suggest that the urgency of conditions needs more than a call for volunteers.

There are, in the more humble walks of life, thousands of strong young women and girls who have all the natural qualifications of nurses, the kind motherly young women and girls who would be a host for good, but they are fearful of their abilities when the appeal for volunteers has, unfortunately, used language which is calculated to discourage the more timid from offering their services.

After all, a good nurse is made by God and she needs no experience in the work which now requires so much to be done.

It is probable, to the degree of certainty, almost, that if the Red Cross members would make a personal campaign for nurses—go out and find these "natural born" nurses and point the way to them—that nurses in sufficient quantities could be secured and the best nurses in the world too.

Nothing Is Something

In a newspaper interview we note a gifted congressman, now returning to our midst, saying that in one day the Germans had "nothing between them and Paris at one point but 8,000 American Marines." Which reminds one of the stump speaker who once described "John D." as having nothing between himself and bitter want, nothing at all but his money.—Collier's.

Not Yet—

The most momentous developments in all history have crowded so rapidly upon one another and coming sometimes in pairs and in groups, during the last few weeks, that people seem to be stunned and unable to realize the enormity of it all.

Germany accepts all of President Wilson's proposals of peace, Turkey hands to the representatives of France and Great Britain through Switzerland her peace proposals which are in effect an unconditional surrender, then Austria replies to the United States seeking peace upon President Wilson's terms. Not to be outdone and without any necessity Germany issues a rejoinder to the last note of the United States asserting that she awaits the terms of the armistice which the representatives of the allied nations and the commanders of the allied armies meet today at Versailles to prepare.

Every indication is that the great world war is rapidly approaching the end and that which, only a few short months ago, seemed to be an event in the far future is almost an accomplished reality.

Of course we must drive ahead with every energy in all lines of war work, never relaxing our vigilance of the dishonest and clumsy but deceitful Hun until the terms of the armistice which the council of Versailles is to prepare and promulgate and the acceptance of which will make it impossible for Germany to renew hostilities, is accepted and carried into effect.

While we are entitled, after all the dark days of trial and suffering and disappointment and pessimism to a look on the brighter side which is revealing itself, yet we need not begin to bother our heads about the problems of peace or the terms of ultimate peace until the proper time comes.

While conditions are promising we must not forget that the war is not yet over. Remembering that fact does not, by any means, make pessimists of us, but it will make impossible a tragedy through overconfidence.

POEM FOR TODAY

EARTH'S COMMON THINGS
 Seek not afar for beauty. Lo it glows
 In dew-wet grasses all about thy feet
 In birds, in sunshine, childish faces sweet.
 In stars and mountain summits topped with snows.
 Go not abroad for happiness. For see
 It is a flower that blossoms at thy door!
 Bring love and justice home, and then no more
 Thou'lt wonder in what dwelling joy may be.
 Dream not of noble service elsewhere wrought;
 The simple duty that awaits thy hand
 Is God's voice uttering a divine command.
 Life's common deeds built all that saints have thought.
 In wonder-workings, or some bush aflame,
 Men look for God and fancy him concealed;
 But in earth's common things he stands revealed.
 While grass and flowers and stars spell out his name.

LIBERTY SAFE IN HANDS OF YANKS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
 Omaha, October 29. — When John Mickael of Omaha left for Camp Dodge, Iowa, last July, he cut a dime in half. He gave to his wife the part bearing the inscription "In God We Trust," and kept the half with the inscription "Liberty."

A few days ago his wife sent him this note: "Dear Jack: I lost my half of the talisman. I'm sorry, and I wonder if anything dreadful will happen to us now?"
 Three days later her soldier husband was dead. He was stricken with influenza which developed into pneumonia. On his death bed he gave his "Liberty" to a friend, instructing him to forward it to his wife with this message: "Tell her to keep her 'Trust in God.' The Yanks will take care of my part of the dime, 'Liberty!'"

MRS. REGINA M. FOCKE ENTERS GREAT BEYOND AT HOME IN DAYTON

At noon Tuesday the sad word reached this city that Regina McDonald Focke, wife of Mr. Francis Focke had entered the great beyond, all efforts to conquer the dread pneumonia having failed.

For the past two days many friends have shared the intense anxiety which has hung over the home in Dayton and the McDonald home in this city, and they also share deeply in the heart breaking grief which has come to both homes. Mrs. John McDonald has been with her daughter since last week and expert medical skill and two trained nurses fought the disease with every possible means. On Monday Mr. McDonald and Miss Margaret were called to Dayton, and the family realized that there was little hope.

In all the sad toll which death has taken in this community none has been more weighted with sorrow than that of this lovely young wife and mother this devoted and idolized daughter, who leaves a young husband and two little sons, the youngest a baby of two weeks.

She was one of a family of nine children and the home ties now severed were unusually close—so close that they were not loosened when the beautiful girl, a happy bride, went to her new home little more than two years ago—only bound together by added interest.

An unusually sweet and attractive girl, talented musically and possessing ready wit, Regina McDonald had been a favorite here from the time she was a child and, when after a post graduate course at St. Joseph's Academy, she returned to her home, it was to find social and musical circles eagerly welcoming her.

Very genuine disappointment followed her removal to Dayton, but Washington friends warmly retained their interest and sympathy goes out in over flowing measure to the husband and the little sons, the parents, brothers and sisters and a large family connection.

Mr. McDonald, who returned Tuesday morning hastened back to Dayton at once when the sad message came, and no further information than the death announcement has as yet been received.

Mr. Carr will return Thursday of this week and will be at the Cherry Farm where he will be pleased to give full information regarding wages, hours, etc.

This is a patriotic work. On account of labor shortage this factory is only producing about one-third its normal output. Help make it one hundred per cent.

An Advance Display of—

Mid-Winter Hats

A Woman's Morale Depends a Great Deal on the Fit of Her Suit and the Becomingness of Her Hat.

Miss Geraldine Farrar says: "It is absolutely right and natural for a woman to dress in pretty and becoming clothes, and if she is a normal person frumpy things make her almost so uncomfortable as unbrushed teeth or unbrushed hair, and I do not think people ought to try to make us ugly and unattractive by urging us to dress all alike or to wear old clothes."

What can give a woman more satisfaction than a becoming hat, and there is nothing frumpy about these brilliant styles that are just in—we couldn't wait longer to show them.

There are stunning styles aplenty for the very particular.

Close fitting turbans in fur and beaver cloth and the shapes are innumerable and original as can be.

BEAT BURLY NEGRO UNTIL EXHAUSTED INTRUDER ESCAPES

Larrimer Home on Washington Avenue Scene of Battle Royal Last Night When Four Women Beat Colored Intruder Until He Seeks Safety in Flight.

The Mrs. Sarah Larrimer home, on Washington avenue, was the scene of an exciting combat between four women in the home on the one side, and an unknown burly negro, believed to be intoxicated, on the other.

When the intruder was discovered in the Larrimer kitchen about eleven o'clock he was attacked by the brave women who used a hatchet umbrella and beat it through the back door. Incidentally the women folks took occasion to bombard him with jeers because of his sneak entrance into the kitchen and his stubborn persistence in hiding behind the stove.

"We were not frightened, for when we saw him in the kitchen it aroused our fighting blood, and we certainly beat him up," declared Mrs. John Whittington, who took a leading part in the affray until the umbrella she was wielding was entirely worn out and the man's head and hands were bleeding where the weapon had struck him countless numbers of times.

Mrs. Larrimer, in spite of her years, bravely attacked the fellow, and when he struck at her, this aroused the three daughters. Miss Eva Larrimer, Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Geo. Haines, who arrived on the scene about this time, and they took part in trouncing the fellow until he was a mass of bruises.

Mrs. Larrimer first wielded a hatchet with the result that she rained a number of heavy blows upon the brute before she lost her grip on the weapon. It fell within the man's reach, but he did not touch it. Next one of the women poured some hot water upon the crouching intruder, but he made no sign that it hurt him. In fact the man, throughout a 20 minute battle with the four women, during most of which time he crouched behind the stove and hurled various articles of the kitchen utensils at them made no outcry and spoke no word.

When the gas mantle was broken and would afford no more light, one of the women obtained a lamp, and while one of them held it the others beat him. Finally the lamp was extinguished and the room was left in darkness, but Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Haines continued their work of raining heavy blows upon the man's head and hands. Every time he would place his hands upon the stove as if to get up from his crouching posture, blows were poured upon his fingers.

The police were summoned after the battle had been under way for sometime, but before they arrived the fellow took advantage of a momentarily let up in the battle, and plunged to freedom through the rear door.

The four women obtained a good look at him—in fact hesitated during their bombardment of the rascal in order to do so so that they could identify him. He was very tall, had on a pair of dark trousers and grey sweater with red sweater under it. He wore a cap and was probably somewhere in 20 years of age.

The police took along search about the surrounding community but failed to locate their man. It is believed that he plainly shows the effects of his encounter.

It is believed that the man is one of numerous drunks who have been seen about the city during the past week or so, and that he had entered the kitchen probably for the purpose of obtaining something to eat.

WILSON'S APPEAL AIRED IN SENATE

(American Press)

Washington, Oct. 29.—Peace negotiations and President Wilson's statement asking the country to return a Democratic congress in the November elections were the subjects of partisan debate in the senate.

Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, Republican, and former secretary of state, opened with an attack on the president's appeal to the electorate. Other Republicans sharply criticized the president for carrying on peace discussions with the central powers and for enunciating terms and principles of peace.

Senator Knox said that the president's appeal raised the question whether the will of the president or the will of the American people is to determine the policy of this country in ending the war, while Senator Ponder of Washington, Republican, said the president assumed more authority than is given under the constitution in fixing peace terms. The Washington senator said no greater service could be done Germany than to bring about an armistice.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, declared that he had not endorsed all of the president's 14 principles and had especially opposed the term, which he said, proposes to guarantee Turkish sovereignty.

Senator Putnam of Nevada, Democrat, made a vigorous attack on the Republican leaders, especially on former President Roosevelt and Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee, for their statements criticizing the president's moves in the peace negotiations.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat, referred to the attacks on President Wilson by Theodore Roosevelt, declaring that the former president also had criticized Senators Lodge, Smoot and Penrose at the time the Progressive party was formed. "The things Colonel Roosevelt said about Senators Lodge, Smoot and Penrose were just as untrue as the things he has said about President Wilson," said Senator Ashurst.

DISCLOSURES MADE BY COUNT MINOTTO INVOLVE CAILLAUX

(American Press)

New York, Oct. 29.—Disclosures regarding the alleged negotiations of Joseph Caillaux, one-time premier of France, and Count Von Luxburg, former German minister to Argentina, intended to re-establish Caillaux in power in Paris in 1915 and bring about a separate peace with Germany, have been made to Deputy State Attorney General Becker by Count James Minotto, an interned enemy alien, the state official announced here.

The deposition of Minotto, who is a son-in-law of Louis Swift of Chicago, has been forwarded to the French ambassador at Washington, Mr. Becker said, and a summary of it has been cabled to France for use in the trial of Caillaux for high treason. The full text also is on its way to Paris by a fast steamship. Minotto was brought here last week from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., by special agents of the department of justice, acting upon the request of the deputy attorney general, who was commissioned by the French government to investigate various phases of German intrigue in this country against France. He talked freely, Mr. Becker said, and gave information which the official declared would be "important" in the prosecution of Caillaux.

ALASKA READY FOR LONG NIGHT

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Fairbanks, Alaska, October 25.—Most of Alaska is about to enter its long half-light winter semi-hibernation when ice and snow lock almost everything in their grip with a wintry clasp.

Already last steamboats making connections for the outside world are leaving the northern inland river towns. In a short time Alaska's big inland summer water highway, the Yukon River, will be sealed tight with seven months' ice.

Throughout the country preparations for the winter are being made. Supplies are being laid in, for prohibitive freight rates prevail on the stage lines which serve the country in the winter.

Fairbanks, Nome, St. Michael, Ruby, Eagle, Anchorage, Tanana, Nenana and Fort Yukon are the largest points in the section of Alaska locked by winter.

This year Anchorage, for the first time, will be in touch with the outside world by railroad, the government line from Seward having been completed a short time ago.

CONDITIONS BETTER BUT MENACE IS STILL SERIOUS ONE

(American Press)

Columbus, Oct. 29.—Influenza conditions appear to be slightly improved, except in mining districts and Cleveland, according to the state health department. This merely means, it was made plain, that the epidemic in many places is not as bad as it has been. It still is serious.

There is no prospect of an early lifting of closing orders, James E. Bauman, acting health commissioner, said. Such action will not be taken until danger of a renewed outbreak is believed to be past, he said. He doubts whether this will be before Nov. 15.

Dr. E. J. Schwartz, division of communicable diseases, left to make a diagnosis of a reported "peculiar" form of influenza at Antwerp, Paulding county. The peculiar symptoms are eruptions on the hands and feet. The department gave Antwerp physicians a "long-distance" diagnosis of smallpox, which they refused to accept.

While influenza cases in Athens county show a 50 per cent decrease in the past 24 hours, conditions at the Athens hospital for the insane seem to be worse. Fifty employees and 211 patients are ill.

It is the only medicine that ever touched me." RICE'S CASH GROCERY, CORNER S. MAIN AND HENKLE STS. 251 16

Don't drop Uncle Sam's insurance. Some soldiers and sailors are dropping their war risk insurance because the relatives they named as beneficiaries have failed to receive insurance certificates from Washington.

Such action is entirely unwarranted and detrimental to the best interests of the fighting men and their loved ones.

Because of delay in receiving insurance certificates, many soldiers believe they are paying for insurance protection which they are not receiving.

This is incorrect. Government insurance is effective regardless of the receipt of the insurance certificate, provided proper application has been made and premiums are being paid. The Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the Treasury Department is mailing insurance certificates as rapidly as possible.

It is unnecessary to write to Washington, asking for your certificate. It will come in due course of time.

WALTER A. ROGERS WINS HONOR MEDAL IN UNIQUE BATTLE

A clipping from a Washington, D. C. newspaper tells of the heroic work of a former Fayette county boy, Walter A. Rogers, son of Joseph and Rosa Rogers, formerly residing at the well known Rogers homestead on the Bloomingburg and Danville pike.

The young man was wounded in one of the most unusual battles of the war while with a corps of U. S. Engineers. The excerpt from the Washington, D. C. paper says:

"One of the strangest fights on record, some six miles behind the battle front, but waged with the utmost ferocity between a little detachment of American engineers on one side and some 2500 German prisoners and a company of lost German infantry on the other, is described by Walter A. Rogers, formerly a sergeant in the 18th Engineers, who is in this city in the interests of recruiting men for the new Motor Transport Corps.

Rogers received an honorable discharge from the army because of wounds received in this action and was awarded the French Croix de Guerre as well, but, not satisfied he is trying to get back to France in the Motor Transport Corps.

"Just tell this to all these gun-shy fellows you meet," he said. "Tell them there's work in France and that the ex-service men in this country are mighty anxious to get back to get another go at the boche. And if the fellows who have already been through it want to go again, it seems to me that there are a whole lot of others who ought to be getting into uniform."

The story Rogers tells of this strange engagement where he was wounded, is not a story of his own part in it. Pressed for particulars about his wounds and his Croix de Guerre, his response was:

"Oh, five or six of us were decorated for getting some wounded out. I got a bayonet through two intestines and a cut over the eye and a bat over the head, but I'm fit as a fiddle now."

This is how it happened. On the morning of March 27, a detachment of the 18th Engineers were supervising the laying of a railroad in the town of Nancy. There were about 200 of them scattered over a mile of territory and the work was being done by about 2500 German prisoners. The engineers acted as guards and overseers.

The real battle was some six miles away. They heard the noise of it but that was all. Nancy was peaceful and he work was progressing rapidly. Then, about 7:30 o'clock in the morning, a force of between 80 and 100 German infantrymen suddenly appeared in the town from the rear. How they got there is not known to this day, but it is supposed they became lost and strayed from their lines during an advance or a retreat during the night.

The Germans saw the Engineers first and charged them. There was no firing, no forming into line to resist the enemy. The Germans were upon the Engineers almost before they could spring to their weapons. The prisoners, realizing a chance to escape was near, leaped into the fray with shovels and picks.

Within a few minutes forty-three of the Engineers were dead and ninety-six wounded. It looked as if they would be cleaned out altogether, when reinforcements appeared. A short distance from the town, the 163rd Infantry, newly arrived in France, was engaged and training. The 163rd heard no shots but some of its pickets saw the start of the scrap. They sent word to headquarters and headquarters sent the regiment out in double-quick. The infantrymen caught the Germans on the flank. The battle was over then, as far as those particular Germans were concerned. Many were killed and a few captured and all of the prisoners who had been participating were rounded up.

Rogers was one of the ninety-six wounded and his wounds were so serious as to result in his honorable discharge, but what particular part he played in the fray can be only judged by the little Croix de Guerre which hangs as a charm on his watch chain.

PREVENT EXCESSES

(American Press)

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—Austria has handed over entire control of food supply and distribution to the Czech authorities in Bohemia. A dispatch from Prague says that in compliance with a demand made by American bankers, the Czech leaders have given an understanding that the prospective Czech government will make every effort to have the new regime in Bohemia come into operation without excesses. The dispatch adds that this is borne out by the entire calm behavior of the Czechs in Prague, who are entitled to credit, at least for the present, for keeping perfect discipline.

MUCH GERMAN AMONG SWEDES

(Associated Press Correspondence)

London, October 20.—In Sweden one is disagreeably struck by the number of people who speak German. When asked a question in English, a Swede, be he a policeman or a civilian, invariably countered in German. At hotels and restaurants few porters and waiters understand or speak English. In book-shops English books and magazines are few, while German are largely represented.

It is different in Norway. English is

FOUR BALLOTS FOR THE VOTERS ON NEXT TUESDAY

In Addition to The Main Ballot Containing Partisan Candidates There Is The Judicial and Two Ballots Containing Four Proposed Amendments to The Constitution.

Tuesday of next week brings the regular fall election and as the date of the election draws near the interest in the contest is on the increase in Fayette county, but in some respects the event is not attracting as great attention as usual, although there is every reason to believe that a fairly large vote will be polled.

The polls will be opened at 5:30 o'clock a. m., and closed at 5:30 o'clock p. m.

When the voter enters the polling place he will find four ballots, the regular partisan ballot containing the candidates on the Democrat, Republican and Socialist tickets; the judicial ballot containing names of candidates for Supreme Court Judges and Court of Appeals judge.

The other two ballots contain proposed constitutional amendments, the referendum provision "reserving to the people the power to approve or reject an action of the General Assembly ratifying any proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States;" The prohibition proposal, and the proposal that the General Assembly shall classify property for taxation purposes.

The other ballot contains the proposed amendment providing addition of the new words in Article 12, Section two, taxation law: "and laws may be passed to provide against the double taxation that results from the taxation of both the real estate and the mortgage or the debt secured thereby, or other lien upon it."

The proposed prohibition amendment reads: "Prohibition of the sale and manufacture for sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage."

The judicial ticket contains the names of four candidates for judge of the supreme court, of which there are two to elect. They are: Phil M. Crow, Oscar W. Newman, James E. Robinson and R. M. Wanamaker.

For Judge of the court of appeals, one to elect, Albert H. Kunkle is the only candidate.

SEES NO SHORTAGE OF COAL SUPPLY

(American Press)
Washington, Oct. 29.—There will be no coal famine the coming winter, nor even an approach to the hardships of last winter, Fuel Administrator Garfield announced, but the public must continue to co-operate with the fuel administration in conservation measures, as far more coal is needed now than in normal times. Dr. Garfield, in a statement reviewing the present coal outlook, said the nation's fuel supplies, assembled in preparation for an unusually severe winter, are adequately well distributed, that coal stocks on hand are greater than ever before and that more domestic coal is now in the hands of consumers and dealers than at the corresponding period in normal years.

OBITUARY

Urcel Pauline Thornton, daughter of Wilbur Vance and Alma Hooker Thornton, was born in Fayette county O., four miles west of Washington C. H., August 24th, 1903. Departed this life 1 p. m., October 19th, 1918, after an illness of two weeks' duration of influenza, followed by pneumonia, aged 15 years, 2 months and 25 days.

Having naturally a most winning way about her, Urcel from early childhood, on up to the beautiful blossoming of young womanhood made friends by the score.

With her constant, cheery smile, her kind and congenial disposition, she won the hearts of both old and young alike.

A favorite with her school mates. A friend to all, and to know her was to love her.

Her going from among us will not alone leave a vacancy in the little family group, but one felt by the whole community as well.

When but a few short days ago we looked on her with admiration, so full of young life and vigor, little did we think that only a few days hence her bright smile would greet us no more here below.

The loving sympathy of all, go out to her bereaved family in a loss of such magnitude, also in the fact that a dear brother Kenneth, is yet quite ill at home.

She leaves to mourn her loss a father, mother, two brothers, Everett and Kenneth, two sisters, Velma and Wanda, two grandfathers, two uncles besides many other relatives, schoolmates, neighbors and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness to us in our sad bereavement in the loss of our dear daughter we thank those who kindly remembered her, with beautiful floral tributes, also Rev. Groves for his kind and consoling words. Also A. R. McCoy Undertaker for efficient services rendered.

CUMMINGS HAS CHARGE TO MAKE

(American Press)
Washington, Oct. 29.—Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the Democratic national committee, issued a lengthy statement asserting that an insidious attempt is being made by selfish interests of the nation to get control of the government through the election of a Republican congress in November. "As the campaign progresses," said Cummings, "the purposes of the selfish and reactionary interests of America become more and more apparent. These interests distrust and fear the president and have no sympathy with the progressive measures which have been enacted under his leadership. They seek to tie the hands of the president and control the machinery of government through the agency of the Republican party."

New Ships Added to Fleet.
